PIZZA

1. Read the article.

Pizza is the world's favorite fast food. We eat it everywhere – at home, in restaurants, on street corners. Some three billion pizzas are sold each year in the United States alone, an average of 46 slices per person.

First “pizzas” were baked on flat stones. These were large pieces of bread were called focaccia bread. Focaccia is still popular in Italy as an appetizer or snack. This snack is easy to make.

The innovation came when Europeans came to America and discovered tomatoes which they then took back to Europe. The people of Naples were the first to put tomatoes on focaccia bread. At first, people did not want to use tomatoes because they thought this vegetable was poisonous!

The world's first pizzeria in Port' Alba opened in 1830, but it was established in 1738. According to documents discovered by historian Antonio Mattozzi, in 1807 54 pizzerias existed. The first pizza delivery was in 1889 when an Italian restaurant owner was asked to create a special dish for the special guest - Queen Margherita. He wanted to use the colors of the Italian flag so he added tomatoes (red), mozzarella cheese (white), and basil (green) to focaccia bread.

In 1905, Gennaro Lombardi opened the first American pizzeria in New York City and it is still there today. Today, pizza is one of the most popular and delicious foods in the world!

Dave's diary

Interview Day

I was so nervous and worried. I really don't know how the interview went but I hope I made a good impression. The other three candidates looked as nervous as me, so at least I wasn't the only one. The man who interviewed me was really nice and the questions he asked were easy, but the woman was horrible. I hope I get the job but I really wouldn't like to work in her department.

Next Day

I got the job! I'm so excited. I start on Monday. I have to go shopping. I need another suit and some ties. I can't turn up for my first day wearing the same suit and tie I was wearing at the interview. And I think I should get my hair cut.

Monday

Oh no! What a disaster! It was my first day and I was so happy! And all that is ruined now. First of all, I turned up over thirty minutes late! It wasn't my fault - the bus broke down - but you can't make excuses on the first day. Then I spilt coffee all over my boss - she was so angry! And my boss is the woman from the interview. At least nothing went wrong in the afternoon, but that's because I stayed behind my desk and tried to read all the files they gave me.

Tuesday

Today was much better. My colleagues are great. They told me not to worry about yesterday, but they were laughing about it and saying they couldn't remember a first day that was such a disaster. The work is really difficult, but I'm pleased about that. I wouldn't want a job that was boring. It's good to use my brain again as I haven't done much since I finished university two months ago. I think I could really enjoy it here.

Wednesday

Working in a big city is so stressful! It takes me almost an hour to get to work and then going home can take even longer. The buses and trains are so crowded that by the time I arrive at work I'm exhausted. And they give me a lot of work. I didn't finish until after 8 o'clock last night and by the time I got home I was very tired. My boss came to talk to me today - the first time since I spilt coffee over her on the first day. She said I was the best candidate and that she was sure I'd be fine. It was so nice - I think I might like her after all.
